WASHINGTON CITY.

The Roseburg Route Frauds.

NEW YORK, Dec 14.—Times Washington: The announcement was recently made that the postoffice department had ordered a reduction of $29,000 per annum in the pay of the contractor who holds the important star route from Redding, California, to Roseburg, Oregon. This route connects the rail road systems of California and Oregon. The reduction was made because of the discovery that every other day trips had not been performed and that third class matter had been carried by steamer from San Francisco. This fact was known to the department in 1879. The line has recently been examined by one of the department inspectors, and his report is of such nature that it is hard to see why the government should not recover at least some of the money wrongfully taken from the treasury by Contractor C. W. Foster, who belongs to the wealthy Barlow party

An Oregon Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—Among the bills introduced in the house yesterday was one providing for the restoration of the Klamath Indian reservation to the public domain, with a proviso that the rights of present settlers to make homestead or pre-emption entries shall date back to the time of actual settlement

Logan's Bill to Retire Grant.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Following is Logan's bill to-day:

"Be it enacted, etc.—That on account of the services of Ulysses S. Grant, late general of the army, the president be and is hereby authorized to nominate and by advice and consent of the senate, appoint him to the army with the rank and grade of general, to be placed on the retired list with pay accordingly. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are suspended for this purpose only."

The bill passed the committee by a party vote, 5 against 3; Senators Logan, Cameron of Pa., Harrison, Sewell and Hawley in the affirmative, and Cockrell, Maxey and Grover in the negative. Hampton was absent

Legislative Notes.

The senate appropriation committee this morning considered the Sherman resolution for the investigation of the expenditure of contingent fund by various departments. The matter was referred to a sub committee of five, consisting of Allison, Logan, Hale, Davis and Cockrill, with instructions to collect facts, take evidence and have it printed

A debate on woman's rights sprang up in the senate this afternoon from the opposition of Vest, of Missouri to the creation of a special committee on that subject. Vest said he regarded it as a step toward woman suffrage, to which he was opposed. Hoar of Massachusetts replied in an animated strain, reciting the oppressive laws of the past regarding woman's advance in public sentiment on the subject, and the propriety of the senate's taking special supervision of the matter

The committees of both houses on memorial service in honor of President Garfield are in joint session to fix a day and hour for services in the capitol. Conger and Brown have been added to the committee

Ex-Senator Paddock, of Nebraska, will succeed Assistant Secretary Upton, who retires from the treasury to-day.

Frelinghuysen will take charge of the state department next Monday.

The senate committee on appropriations to-day briefly discussed, but laid aside for further consideration, the bill introduced by Senator Edmunds which proposes the appropriation of $100,000 to defray the extraordinary liabilities and expenses incurred in consequence of the assassination of Garfield

Garfield Memorial Services.

The senate and house committee on the death of President Garfield held a joint session to-day to consider the proposed memorial service and referred the matter to a sub-committee of which Representative McKinley is chairman, with instructions to report a joint committee as soon as practicable. General preference was expressed that some distinguished orator be invited to deliver the eulogy, and that two senators and two representatives be selected to follow the orator with brief remarks, each being allowed 15 minutes; services to begin and close with prayer and be held in the house of representatives in January

Favorable Committee Reports.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—This morning in the senate, the committee made a favorable report upon Saunders bill to straighten the northern boundary line of Nebraska on the line of the 43d parallel, also a favorable report on the bill to legalize the present legislature of New Mexico. Owing to non-compliance with the act of congress the present legislature is not legal.

Supreme Court too Small.

The committee of the American Bar association appointed to devise a plan for expediting the business of the supreme court of the United States, is now in session. Three plans are under consideration, viz:

1. The appointment of additional justices and division of the court in sections, each section to hear a definite class of cases;

2. The establishment of an intermediary court of appeals in Washington so as to lessen the number of appeals to the supreme court;

3. To divide the country into districts and establish in each district an intermediate court of appeals.

The docket of the court is more than three years in arrears and cases are constantly accumulating

Democratic Movements.

This evening the democratic county committee met and agreed to a proposition to appoint a committee of twenty-five to act with a similar committee appointed by the state central committee, and whose purpose is to form a plan for government of the party in this city. Both state and county committees will meet in conjunction next Tuesday evening.

The Whittaker Case.

Judge Advocate General Swaim to-day submitted his review of the Whittaker court martial case to the secretary of war. The verdict of the court will not be made public until the case is acted upon by the president

A Family Affair.

Early this morning the husband of Mrs Nettie Wheeler, went to a house of ill fame which she kept, shot her dead and then shot himself three times, resulting fatally.

Decision on Mail Matter.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—Acting Postmaster General Hatton authorizes the ruling that no supplement containing any advertisements whatever can be allowed in mails at second-class rates, unless the publisher makes affidavit that the same rates are paid for advertisements in the supplement as for those in the body of the paper

Postmasters Appointed.

The following are among the postmasters appointed by the president to-day: William C. Vance, at Astoria, Or.; John J. Simler, at San Luis Obispo, Cal.; Lloyd V. Mancavyn, at Visalia; O. F. Townsend, at Yuma, Arizona; F. E. Brooks at Tombstone, Arizona; John C. Keppler, at Glendale, Montana

Postmaster General Resigns.

Despite denials the postmaster general has resigned for January 1st because of important and pressing private business in the new bank which cannot wait

Motion Granted.

In the Christiancy divorce suit to-day Chancellor Wylie granted the motion of the defendant

Adjournment of Supreme Court.

Supreme court will be adjourned from the 22d inst. until January 4th

NOVA SCOTIA.

A Cock and Bull Story.

CHICAGO, Dec 14.—A Times Halifax special says A. M. Robinson, said to represent Wells, Fargo & Co., last summer engaged a number of young Nova Scotians to go to New Mexico and work in silver mines. They write home that if they attempt to leave they are arrested and detained. A party who sought to escape were surrounded and driven back and several badly wounded in the fracas. Friends here called on Lieut Gov Archibald who said the matter would be dealt with by the imperial authorities and asked for documents to place in the hands of the governor general

An Explanation Wanted.

HALIFAX, Dec 14.—The imperial government will be asked to inquire into the stories of harsh treatment of Nova Scotians working in silver mines in Mexico. Some miners have been shot

CANADA

Indians Starving

PEMBINA, Dec 14.—Indians in the Pembina mountains ... announce their supplies cut off by quarantine regulations and their people starving. Collector McMurton telegraphed the facts to the Indian and war departments. Capt Collins has ... to send provisions from Fort Pembina

MEXICO.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

The Prisoners' Boasted Christian Character Proved a Sham.

HE COLLECTS $175 AND MAKES AWAY WITH IT

The Statement makes him Squirm, but he can't Prevent the Truth being Told—Guiteau said to be the Author of the Celebrated Morey Letter

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—In the Guiteau case the first witness was Dr. ... J. Withrow of Boston.

Guiteau ... Dr. Withrow is the honored pastor of Park St. church, Boston, which I used to attend church when I was there. He is a very fine gentleman

Witness said the prisoner desired to deliver a lecture in Withrow's church in answer to Ingersoll, but witness declined to have the church used for such a purpose. Witness observed Guiteau during the winter at meetings and social gatherings of the church and never saw the least indication of unsoundness of mind, but on the contrary thought he possessed unusual shrewdness. Questioning himself, witness added "I should say intelligence."

Guiteau—What's the difference doctor?

Answer—The one means brighter than the other.

Col. Corkhill—And of larger calibre?

Guiteau—He didn't say that, Corkhill. You must have slept well last night. That's the smartest thing you have said yet

Witness said the prisoner generally took part in discussions upon whatever subject might be under discussion and was always critical and accusative, rather than conciliatory and kind.

Guiteau—I always spoke to the point, incisive and gritty. That's me. There's no romance in my composition. If there had been, I might have gone through the world more smoothly. It's very evident to the mind of everyone, the sole object of this kind of examination is to show I know the difference between right and wrong. That has nothing whatever to do with this case. The only question is whether or not my free moral agency was destroyed when I was impelled upon the president. That is the point, Judge, and it knocked the bottom out of your theory. After a short pause he broke out again and with increased vehemence: "I'm not here to save my neck from the gallows. I'm here for vindication, for justice and for right."

Judge Cox—Well, that will do now. Suspend your remarks.

Guiteau—All right, when I get to the jury I'm going to talk to them on this subject. This is just a little incidental speech

Charles A. Bryan of the New York Equitable Life Insurance Co. knew the prisoner in New York. Witness was proceeding to relate the circumstances of Guiteau's connection with his company when Guiteau indignantly shouted:

"Well, now, I want to say right here, when a witness comes here and tells what is false, I shall tell him you are mistaken, sir. That is false; that is a lie and finally, you are a miserable whelp. That is as far as I shall go. It is equivalent to the barroom expression, 'go down below', but I don't go that far."

Witness said prisoner asked a loan on the strength of a consulship he was to have. He considered him sane

Henry G. Collier, attorney of New York, took the chair

"I remember you," shouted Guiteau. "You are the man that put up that Herald job on me."

"Keep quiet," said Scoville.

I will dispose of this man in short order. He brought suit against me to pay over certain money, and the court ruled I should keep it. That tells his evidence."

Witness related an instance of Guiteau's collecting $175 and failing to pay it. His evidence proved extremely damaging to the prisoner's oft asserted claim of having always lived an upright christian life and Guiteau wriggled and expostulated and vainly attempted to explain the transaction. Witness at one point said "I informed Judge Davis at the time that I considered Guiteau a thief and a scoundrel."

Guiteau (excitedly)—You did not dare say so to me. I would have knocked you down

One of the jurors stated to the court that he could not possibly concentrate his thoughts upon the evidence, feeling as ill as he did, and the court adjourned

A New Sensation.

CHICAGO, Dec 14.—The Times Washington special says: A sensational story has been started this evening which attracts additional attention to the Guiteau trial. It is claimed by lawyers who have kept quiet until now, that two of the jurors have been in the employ of the government for several years, and are therefore disqualified. Each juror was made to answer the question whether he had served under the government or was then in its employ before being accepted. Each juror answered upon his oath, "No." It is now claimed that it can be shown that two jurors perjured themselves, and are therefore disqualified to serve. This fact was overlooked by the prosecution at the impaneling of the jury. At present it is stated they are fearful that such an important fact should leak out. A gentleman familiar with the early stages of the case stated to the Times correspondent to-night that the defense was evidently ignorant of this point in their favor. The matter is being quietly discussed in legal circles, and the opinion is expressed that Col Corkhill is seriously to blame. The questionable jurors are Gates and Wormly. Gates was recently employed as machinist in the navy yard and Wormly, not long ago a messenger in the pension office

Gorham and Guiteau.

[Sacramento Record Union.]

George Gorham must have spent an uncomfortable five minutes when he was subpoenaed to appear as a witness in the Guiteau case, to prove that he had encouraged the assassination of President Garfield by his bitter abuse of the latter. Guiteau evidently intends to set up the allegation that Gorham's editorials had a considerable influence upon his mind, and that they perhaps first suggested to him the desirability of "removing" the late president. The prisoner wishes to make it appear that he was deeply impressed by Gorham's representation of the existence of a rupture in the republican party. It is somewhat curious, however, that when Gorham and Garfield were thus associated as enemies in his mind, the idea of "removing" Gorham did not occur to him. Probably his characteristic egotism led him to reflect that he could not obtain anything like the same notoriety by killing the editor of the Washington Republican that was to be gained by the murder of the president. But even Gorham must experience some compunction when he realizes that his virulent attacks upon President Garfield may have engendered the idea of the assassination in the brain of Guiteau

THE NORTHWEST.

Southern Oregon.

The Jacksonville Times comes to hand enlarged and otherwise improved. It is worked up in its local department with energy and as a consequence seems to be meeting with success

Idaho.

After ... bills were referred the house adjourned without completing the call of the states

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14

A number of bills were introduced, including one by ... for settling private land claims in certain states and territories

After the morning hour the subject of presidential succession was brought up, and Beck addressed the senate to illustrate the urgency for action

Beck spoke of the serious difficulties and confusion likely to arise from enforcement of the act of March 1, 1792, giving the line of succession to the president of the senate, or if there is none, to the speaker of the house in a contingency therein provided for, and referred to many instances which, if any such contingency had arisen these difficulties would have been illustrated. He said that while the word "officer" in the clause constituting and empowering the legislature to declare what officer shall act as a provisional successor had been held to mean an officer of the United States, the only existing provision of law on the subject the act of 1792, designated officials not recognized as officers. The U. S. senate decided in 798, in the Blount impeachment case that a senator was not a civil officer of the United States within the power of impeaching, by the constitution, and this decision followed. There were many practical difficulties in the way of execution of the law. The speaker of the house ordinarily was in official existence for nine months every alternate year. As the president of the senate may have no official existence at the same time as had repeatedly occurred and was the fact when the assassination of President Garfield took place, in the life of the vice-president the officer as president pro tem of the senate does not exist, except in the absence of the vice president, upon whose reappearance the president pro tem becomes functus officio. The power given congress to provide for succession being a power to designate an officer already existing, the latter must continue to hold the office the possession of which qualifies him for designation as acting president of the United States. Thus the speaker of the house or president of the senate who was acting as president of the United States would wield both legislative and executive power of the government as he would take part in legislation and could append or withhold executive signature to that same legislation. Further both the president of the senate and the speaker of the house may become ineligible to the presidency by reason of alienage and nonage. This was illustrated in the case of Clay in 1811, who was elected speaker of the house before he was of presidential age, and under the existing law, if both president and vice president had died sixty days before the first Wednesday of the present month, it would have been necessary to elect a new president who would be sworn in on the 4th of March next, in the middle of a long term of congress, and if he was to serve for four years, his term would expire in the middle of a long congressional term. The introduction of a new cabinet and new machinery in the middle of a congress would disorganize all governmental departments and ought to be provided against. Beck regarded the substance of the bill reported by the judiciary committee of the senate in 1856, making the succession fall on judges of the supreme court, officers who had the qualifications required for the presidency and vice presidency, as bridging over the difficulty. He denied the position taken by that committee and by able lawyers that when in a temporary disability of the president the vice president succeeds, the president cannot afterwards resume his place. If Lincoln had been captured by confederates it would have been necessary for Hamlin to sign, as president, all legislation passed, and raise men and money to carry on the war, but a declaration by Hamlin that he intended to act the remainder of the term would have caused a revolution in the north. Beck was opposed to Garland's bill vesting the succession in cabinet officers because, in the event of removal of the president the cabinet might not only be implicated with the president but might have advised the offense for which he is removed. Then cabinet members may not possess the requisite qualifications for the presidency in age and nativity. He then quoted from an interesting letter by an official senate reporter D. F. Murphy, in response to one from himself giving the record of the insertion of a clause of the constitution and legislation on the subject

Maxey followed Beck, holding that the vice-president does not become president nor entitled to take the oath as such, pending inability or disability of the president, but only to discharge the powers and duties of that office by virtue of his office as vice president, pending disability and no longer

Anthony followed in an effort to elucidate the political difficulties in the way of enforcement of the act of 1792, and the necessity for a remedy therefor

Garland obtained the floor, when the senate went into executive session and adjourned

Senatorial Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—The following bills were introduced in the senate: By Plumb, amending section 252 of the revised statutes providing for the issuance of gold certificates. It substitutes the word "directed" for "authorized," so as to make it mandatory on the secretary to issue certificates upon deposits of gold coin and bullion. Also authorizing the president, whenever in his judgment the exigency of frontier service requires it, to add 25,000 enlisted men to the army to serve during such exigency and not longer than one year

ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense—no one seemed to know what ailed me—that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, and when I told them what had helped me they said, 'Hurrah for Hop Bitters! Long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.'"—The Mother—Home Journal

THE UMATILLA RESERVATION.

Senator Slater Presents a Bill to Apportion it Among the Indians in Severalty and Dispose of the Balance to Settlers

SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON, Dec

Senator Slater has introduced a bill ... the Umatilla Indian reservation, which is not only of ... importance to Oregon ... interest to all other ... states and territories ... valuable land ... for the occupancy of ... proportionate numbers of peaceable Indians. This carefully prepared measure deals with a reservation of ... acres of arable land and timber lands now reserved for the ... of less than 750 Indians ... women and children. Senator Slater believes that their welfare and the interests of the state alike will be largely promoted by reducing this immense reservation and settling the Indians on land in severalty. He is confident that a majority of congress will take the same view and in the event of passage of this bill he will doubtless be followed by similar action in regard to many similar cases. It provides, first that a commission of three disinterested persons to be appointed by the president shall visit the reservation and ascertain how many Indians are willing to remain on it and accept agricultural lands in severalty as follows: To each head of a family 160 acres, to each single person over 18 years old and each orphan child under that age 80 acres, to each child under 18 years not otherwise provided for 40 acres. The commissioners are thereupon to set apart a sufficient area for allotment and a reasonable amount of pasture and timber lands for common use, and also 640 acres for an industrial farm school. The total area thus to be set apart is not to exceed 120,000 acres. The allotments are then to be made by the government with in this reduced reservation and patents issued, providing that the Indians' lands shall be inalienable for 10 years and be exempt from all taxation. All the residue of lands within the present boundaries of Umatilla reservation, are thereupon to be surveyed and sold to actual settlers at appraised values. One third of the purchase price of agricultural lands to be paid upon entry and the balance in one and two years. The full appraised value of timber lands must be paid at the time of entry. The area purchasable by any one settler is limited to 160 acres of untimbered land and an additional tract of 40 acres of timber land. Each settler at the time of entry is required to make oath that he is entering the land for his own use and occupation and not on account of another. That he has made no contract whereby the title shall directly or indirectly inure to the benefit of another and before a patent can issue for untimbered land, the purchaser is required to make proof that he has resided on the land purchased at least one year and reduced 2 acres thereof to full cultivation. No patent can issue till all payments are paid. After three years from date when said lands shall be declared open for settlement and subject to sale, all lands unsold may be purchased at an appraised value without limit as to quantity and without settlement. Persons who have acquired under homestead and pre-emption laws, a title to lands on the border of the reservation, made fractional by reservation line, are reserved the right to complete their claims to an aggregate of 160 acres by the purchase of adjacent lands of the reservation without residence, by paying the appraised value. The bill provides that the funds arising from the sale of all these lands shall be placed in the United States treasury to the credit of the Indians, to draw 5 per cent per annum interest, and 20 per cent of said funds may be used, under the direction of the president, in assisting said Indians in establishing themselves on their allotments, and the residue is to be applied to the support of an industrial farm and school for the training and education of children of said Indians in the arts and methods of civilized life. The bill in conclusion provides for an appropriation of $40,000 to carry its provisions into effect including $10,000 for the speedy establishment of the industrial farm and school

Indian News.

CHICAGO, Dec 14.—A special from the Apache, Arizona says: Having received information that the hostile scouts are located near Cibicu county, about 20 miles from here, Gen Carr sent K troop 6th cavalry under Lieuts Kingsbury and Hodgson, to try and surprise them. The information was to the effect that the hostiles had been drinking tiswin and in a drunken row among themselves had killed one of their number. The troops left here the night of the ...th and found the camp on a high hill commanding a view of every side and fortified with rocks. The camp was deserted, the hostiles having evidently been apprised of their approach. The troops found the dead body of an Indian who was recognized as one of Crum's scouts named Mickey. This is the first time the hostile scouts have been definitely located.

EQUITABLE
LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,
120 Broadway, New York.
LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE IN 1880.
The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Policies with the following remarkable results:
POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.
1st Example: Policy No. 41,563, issued May 25, 1871. Amount ... $10,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years) ... 5,304 60
The assured is now entitled to draw, in cash, $6,155.90, having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years. 115 per cent of premiums paid, returnable in cash.
This example and those which follow show that
LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID POLICY-HOLDERS THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.
2d Example: Policy No. 58,542, issued Dec. 30, 1870. Endowment 20 years. Tontine Period ten years.
Amount ... $10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years) ... 7,530 00
The assured on Dec. 30, 1880, will be entitled to draw in cash, $9,033 30, 12 per cent of the premiums paid.
These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are
NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.
3d Example: Policy No. 41,421, issued March 27, 1870. Amount ... $5,000 00
Total premiums paid ... 2,906 95
In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1880, in cash, $3,312 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.
Many policies will be thus paid in 1881, showing
CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.
Assets securely invested of $43,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average
ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.
The Society pays death claims promptly and in full. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unreasonable conditions.
EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

STOPPAGE OF CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

Prior to the assembling of congress Senator Miller of California, had prepared a bill to carry the late treaty with China into practical effect. It has since been introduced. This treaty, it will be remembered, was obtained in order that our government might have power, without violation of faith, to limit the immigration of Chinese into the United States. Senator Miller's bill has been framed to accomplish this object. The first section provides that the introduction, coming into, or residence in the United States, of subjects or citizens of China, except such as were residing in the United States on the 19th July, 1881, shall be unlawful, and shall be suspended or prohibited till, otherwise declared by law. From this sweeping provision students who come for the purposes of education, and merchants or traders engaged in lawful commerce and passing through the United States from curiosity or upon lawful business, are alone excepted. Section two provides that in case any Chinese residing in the United States on the 19th July, 1881, shall depart therefrom, their re-entry and future residence shall be conditional upon their having before their departure been duly registered at a custom house in the United States, and producing to the collector a certificate of registration and also a certificate from the consul of the United States at the port of departure upon their return. Section three provides for registration at the custom houses of those who depart, and prescribes methods of identification. By section four it is declared that no Chinese of any class or occupation whatever, except such as resided in the United States on the 19th July, 1881, shall be allowed to enter the United States without consent of the Chinese government first especially obtained in each case, to be evidenced by a certificate issued by said government, which certificate shall be in the English language or accompanied by a translation into English. The genuineness of this certificate must be attested by indorsement of the consular representative of the United States at the port from which the person sails. The three sections next following prescribe the means through which the foregoing provisions are to be enforced and various penalties for their violation, including a fine of $500 upon the master of any vessel for each person brought to the United States in violation of the law.

It will be seen that the sweeping provisions of this act will put a complete stop to Chinese immigration. There is little doubt that the act will pass, since congress has heretofore evinced a disposition to put a check upon the immigration of Chinese. Yet there is probably less opposition to the presence of Chinese in the Pacific states and territories now than at any time for twenty years. The reason is that the demand for labor is now so great that the competition of the Chinese is less felt than at any former time. Construction of railroads furnishes employment for all who desire it, whites as well as Chinese. Not less than twenty thousand men will be wanted for railroad work within three months in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. It may be doubted whether half that number can be obtained. Thus the development of the country will be retarded through want of labor. That already has happened during the past two years. Could labor have been obtained the railroad from Portland to The Dalles would now be completed, and the lines east of the Cascades would be much further advanced. For railroad work three times as many Chinese are wanted here as can be had or engaged, and will be wanted for the next two or three years. Stoppage of Chinese immigration will still further limit the needed labor supply. But in the long run the act will bring its compensations. We shall have white people here to fill the places of the Chinese.

THE FUTURE OF CANADA.

Canada has never organized a really formidable rebellion against British rule, though signs of discontent have frequently been manifested. Decided, though by no means dangerous evidences of this dissatisfaction are reported at present. It can hardly be possible that the colonial form will be the permanent government of Canada. The lessons of history, as read by those who are observant of the operations of human nature in masses, are against the idea, and hence it may be said with tolerable certainty that the autonomy of the British provinces of America is only a question of time and opportunity. The direct stimulus and provocation to an effort at independence exist in a concentrated form by the side of Canada. The United States, once a collection of provinces like themselves, acts as a spur on the flanks of Canadian politics, ever urging it to leap the ditch that separates between tutelary dependence and self-government. It must be confessed, however, that there is but little analogy between the case of the thirteen American colonies and the Canadian provinces. Our forefathers were more thoroughly of the British stock than the Canadians, but they were directly denied the right of representation. Our "blue-nose" friends are of a mixed race, but have been treated with great political liberality, and have their parliament and a thorough system of local self-government. They are, however, subjects of the crown of Great Britain, and possess no true autonomy in the largest sense of the term. On the one side the eclectic character of the people prevents anything like a thorough bond between the so-called mother country and themselves. The genuine English and Scotch residents and the descendants of those stocks are excessively loyal, and are generally characterized by a prejudice against and jealousy of their Yankee neighbors, as they affect to call the citizens of the United States. But the Anglo-Saxon and Gaelic element is not by any means in a heavy majority; the mass of the people, especially the lower classes, are descendants of the French, the original settlers of the country, and the domesticated Indians. This class is generally an ignorant one, but to this there are many exceptions, as we may judge by the names representing French blood in parliament, the judiciary and other responsible positions. The inhabitants therefore can hardly be credited with the same spirit of instinctive loyalty and of pride in the glory of old England as those of clearly British blood. They are not very progressive and are, as their Mexican congeners, very much under the control of the Catholic clergy. Outside of those two classes there is another, which constitutes by far the most aggressive one politically. The enterprising Yankee is not infrequently represented on Canadian soil. This character, wherever he plants himself, becomes a power in the community. He marries, establishes relations with the people and influences them. This element in the Canadas is reinforced by the commercial classes, who, having continual intercourse with the United States, and contrasting practically the differences of life under a monarchical and colonial system with that under a free government, grow to be either advocates of annexation or friends of independence. Thus, with those various elements and rather contradictory forces at work, it will be seen that it is not likely that any immediate and united endeavor will be made to change the existing political institutions. Yet every now and then the question is agitated, though so far in no systematic or menacing way. Those in official position and occupying a British standpoint, affect to despise these rumors of dissatisfaction, and like the Marquis of Lorne, are fond of asserting that out of every 10,000 citizens 9999 are opposed to annexation. This is, of course, puerile. But, even if it were approximately true, it would only indicate an unwillingness to be absorbed by the United States government—a sentiment by no means antagonistic to a desire for political independence. We see no signs of any immediate revolt of the Canadians from the mother country, but the day must come when not only Canada, but Australia and even India, will assert the principles contained in our declaration of independence, and will insist upon the inherent right of governing themselves.

The discovery is now claimed that two jurors acting in the Guiteau case are disqualified, and that this fact will invalidate any verdict which the jury may render. The story is a doubtful one; but should it prove true it will only be the more necessary for the person who is to rid the world of the devilish monster to hurry up the business. The only possible thing to be done with the accursed wretch is to prepare his vile carcass for the earth, and then to inhume it as quickly as possible. How it is done, when, or by whose hand, matters little. Mankind has no interest in him but to destroy him, or to know that he is destroyed. The law, in its present state, cannot deal properly with such a miscreant, and therefore is not entitled to respect. The only thing necessary in such a case should be to bring the detested scoundrel before the court to receive the sentence of death. A "trial" for such a crime is a burlesque of justice and an outrage upon mankind. The scenes enacted in the court room at Washington are not for enforcement of justice, but for perversion of the law, so as to secure immunity for the assassin. The civilized world is disgusted at the spectacle, and nine-tenths of the American people would express their satisfaction any moment if they could hear that this infernal wretch's brains had been blown out, within Judge Cox's court or out of it.

The New York Times justly complains that President Arthur "makes a somewhat gingerly allusion in his message to the star route frauds." It might have been worth while, it tells him to point out the fact that the great reductions which have recently been made in the expenses of the star-route service can only be justified on the theory that the system which rendered these reductions necessary was both extravagant and corrupt." And finally, the Times remarks that "it would be a pity if the star-route cases should have no better result than to furnish the democrats with a great deal of effective campaign literature." Which, nevertheless, they are sure to do.

Of our civil service abuses the London Daily Telegraph says: "So long as reform in the civil service remains unaccomplished, the danger that public interests may be sacrificed to faction and that corruption will prey upon the vitals of the state must endure. A dread catastrophe has given an awful warning, and the best interests of the noble people demand that these showy promises be promptly followed by solid performance."

English papers are exercised a good deal about Mr. Blaine's letters on the "Monroe doctrine," which have recently come to light. Some of them say that Great Britain will not permit the doctrine they announce to be carried out by the United States. And yet Great Britain might not in the end have much to say about it.

By a typographical error yesterday in our news columns the statement was made that the steamers building for the Southern Pacific railroad company to carry wheat from the Columbia river and Puget Sound are vessels of 300 tons. They are to be vessels of 3000 tons. Few, perhaps, would fail to perceive the error.

A silver plate, inscribed with the fac simile signature of President Garfield and the dates of his birth and death has been placed on the pew occupied by him in the Christian church at Washington. The pew is not to be occupied in the future, but will remain draped, and be known as the Garfield memorial pew.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That the resolution directing notice of intention to improve Jefferson street from Front street to Fourth street, adopted at the last meeting of the common council, be rescinded.

Resolved, That the auditor and clerk give notice that the common council propose to improve Jefferson street from the east line of Fourth street to a line 200 feet east of Front street by grading to the established grade and laying sidewalks, with 12-foot covering plank, and crosswalks; by macadamizing the roadway full width and laying stone block gutters from the east line of Fourth street to the east line of Front street, and by planking the roadway full width with four-inch plank from the east line of Front street to a line 200 feet east of Front street; such improvement to be at the expense of the adjacent property.

Whereas, Ordinance No. 3050, authorizing the appointment of a deputy superintendent of streets, provides that it shall be the duty of such deputy to see that all streets, sidewalks, yards, lots, places and premises are kept clean. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the attention of such deputy be called to section 24 of ordinance No. 3004.

Resolved, That he be requested to strictly enforce the provisions of said section 24 of said ordinance No. 3004.

Resolved, That the resolution adopted Dec. 7, 1881, for the improvement of Harrison street, be and the same is hereby rescinded.

Resolved, That notice be given that the common council of the city of Portland propose to improve Harrison street from the center line of Front street to a line 200 feet east of the east line of Water street, by laying sidewalks and crosswalks and planking the roadway sixteen feet in width from the center line of Front street to the center line of Water street and by constructing a wooden gutter from the center line of Front street to a point two hundred feet east of the east line of Water street.

MINOR MENTION.

THE NEW STREET RAILWAY.

LINES NORTH, WEST AND SOUTH TO BE RUN NEXT YEAR,

And Six Miles to be Completed in Three Years—Such are Provisions agreed upon with the Council Committee.

Since last week the directors of the Willamette Street Railway, and Messrs. Keller, Hewett, Holman, Gerdes and Honeyman, the special railroad committee of the city council, have had special conferences and mutually agreed upon an ordinance. Last night the committee made a long report, which was read twice and ordered to be printed in the official paper. Following are salient points of the ordinance:

ROUTES TO BE BUILT IMMEDIATELY.

The company is required to build by Jan. 1, 1883, the following lines:

Beginning corner North Front and G, along G to Eighteenth, thence south to the corner of Fourteenth and B; thence along Fourteenth to Morrison, thence down Morrison to First.

From the corner of First and Clay along Clay to Tenth, Tenth to Jefferson; up Jefferson to Twelfth, or from the corner of Tenth and Clay to the corner of Twelfth and Clay.

The company is required to complete at least six miles of railway (including the above) by January 1, 1885.

THE ENTIRE SYSTEM

Is embraced in the following lines, which must be completed by January 1, 1885, or any street or part thereof not then occupied by the company shall be declared abandoned:

First.—Along North Front street from its intersection with North Fifteenth to its intersection with North Third street, thence along North Third and South Third to the city limits.

Second.—From the intersection of North Ninth and Q streets, along North Ninth and Eighth street to its southern terminus.

Third.—From the intersection of North Front street with the extension of North Fifteenth, along N. Fifteenth to P, along P to N. Thirteenth, along N. Thirteenth and Twelfth streets to Hall, along Hall street to Front street, along Front street to Lincoln, along Lincoln street to its intersection with the macadam road.

Fourth.—From the intersection of North Front and N. streets along N to the city limits.

Fifth.—Commencing at the intersection of the east line of the city park and the Canyon road, thence easterly along said county road, along Jefferson street to its intersection with Tenth, thence on Tenth to Clay, thence on Clay to Water, thence along Water street and the macadam road to the city limits.

HOURS OF RUNNING.

Cars shall run between 6 A. M. and 8 P. M. not less than every five minutes on routes parallel with the river, and not less than every 15 minutes on routes running at right angles thereto; and between 8 and 12 P. M., not less than every 30 minutes on any route.

The remainder of the ordinance provides the manner in which tracks shall be laid; that the fare shall not exceed five cents on any one route, and that a route shall be deemed to be so far as a car runs in one general direction; the amount of license each car shall pay, etc., etc.

OREGON TO MASSACHUSETTS.

Some time ago Messrs Hodge, Davis & Co., of this city, read in a Massachusetts paper that Hon. Charles R. Ladd, auditor of that state, was afflicted with an incurable kidney disease, and had been obliged to give up work and return to his home. They immediately sent him a box of their celebrated Oregon Kidney Tea, and from time to time sent him other boxes. A few days ago they received from him the following letter:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
Auditor's Dep't, Boston, Nov. 11, 1881.

Messrs. Hodge Davis & Co: DEAR SIRS—I have no hesitation in saying that I have been much benefited by the use of the Oregon Kidney Tea as a remedy for a kidney difficulty which has troubled me for six or eight years. I can heartily recommend it to those who are similarly afflicted, as a safe and agreeable remedy. I shall test its virtues further, for I have great faith in it as a specific for many diseases of the kidneys. Respectfully yours,
CHAS. R. LADD.

The original of this letter can be seen by calling on Messrs. Hodge Davis & Co., Portland, Oregon, and the Oregon Kidney Tea can be bought of any druggist or dealer, in Oregon or Washington. Price $1 per box.

Go to Keith's for your oysters.

Davidson's new sky-light is the "Boss" these dark days. His customers do not fail to get good negatives and finely finished photographs.

BELOW FIRST STREET PRICES.—Christmas goods way below First street prices at Wiley B. Allen's book and music store, on Third street.

Don't go to J. H. Robbins & Son's on First street, between Salmon and Main, because you might be tempted to buy some of those new designs in ebonized brackets, frames, music racks, vases and a hundred and one other things which tend to beautify a home so much, at a trifling cost.

Mellis Bros & Co., 126 First, 127 and 129 Front Sts., have purchased the entire assignee stock of toys, dolls, etc., from Chas. Hirstel & Co., and offer them 75 per cent. under Portland's lowest wholesale rates.

The photographic work of Abell continues to be favorably spoken of by all who see the display. Orders are duplicated in almost every instance. Call and see him.

Most merchants would pronounce our stock very large, though we are making a clearance. We have the largest and best assorted stock of clothing and furnishing goods north of San Francisco. Fishel & Roberts, clothiers and merchant tailors, corner First and Alder. See advertisement.

FAVORING TILLAMOOK ROCK.

The Astorian of yesterday quotes that portion of THE OREGONIAN's report of the last board of trade meeting which refers to the proposed telegraph line from Astoria to the coast, and adds:

To us it seems better for many reasons that the line should run from Astoria to Tillamook Rock via Point Adams. It was the original intent; any change of the programme now would delay the appropriation. The intent of the service would be better served by having the station at Tillamook, out on the extreme coast, where the force and direction of the wind, etc., could be more accurately determined than at the comparatively sheltered point of Cape Hancock. To build to Cape Hancock would involve at least the laying of four miles of cable; to Tillamook but a mile and a half. At Tillamook the station could be approached nearer than at the cape. Whatever advantages might be derived by pilots, ocean steamers, etc., from having the station at the cape would be no more than could be derived by having a sub station at Point Adams. To vessels coming up, (and in general vessels are more apt to be below the bar than above it) the Tillamook station would be of far more benefit than the Cape Hancock one. Of course it would be most desirable to have two, one at each; but at present only one can be expected, and to insure the maximum amount of benefit from the station it should—in our judgment—be at Tillamook.

SALEM AND WALDO HILLS R. R. CO.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state on Monday last for the Salem and Waldo Hills Railway, with a capital stock of $100,000, with power to increase the same at pleasure. The object of the corporation is to construct, equip, maintain and operate a railroad and telegraph line from Salem to and through Howell's Prairie to intersect with the Oregonian Railway company's line between Silverton and Aumsville; thence across said railway through the valley of Mill creek to a point on the North Santiam at or near Mehams, with power to extend the same or build branch lines. The list of incorporators are as follows: David McCrully, A. Bush, S. W. Church, J. W. Crawford, W. J. Herren, Squire Farrar, Jno. Hughes, L. S. Skiff, Leo Willis, A. N. Gilbert, E. M. Waite, G. S. Downing, Sam Brown, Wm England, E. P. Walker, T. L. Davidson, Lewis Savage, J. D. Hurst, A. T. Gilbert, Warren Cranston, O. G. Savage, Werner Breyman, F. Levy, R. L. Hibbard, R. C. Geer, Calvin Geer, M. R. Savage, Lewis Johnson, Emanuel Meyer, Jno. W. Gilbert and L. C. Griffith. Head office at Salem. This is a move in the right direction and starts out with every indication of ultimate success.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

English Comment on Blaine's Dispatches.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The Times says it is not likely England or any European state will be tempted to meddle with the affairs of South America, but such intervention might be necessary if European interests be affected. It must not be imagined that European powers can acquiesce in the very wide extension of the Monroe doctrine implied in Blaine's dispatch. Intervention for the protection of European interests is as rightfully claimed by European powers as it is by the United States for the protection of their interests in China and Japan.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The St. James Gazette this evening says there is nothing in Blaine's dispatches with which it would be reasonable or profitable for European governments to find fault; but there is much cause for reflection that Europe will have in the future to regard the United States as having a foreign policy of their own, although that policy may only concern South America, yet considering the commercial ties between South America and Europe it may cross and confuse the policy of European governments in some ways and to an extent now only faintly foreseen.

Emigration Meeting.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Lord Lorne presided to-day at a meeting held for the encouragement of emigration of women to Canada.

The Vienna Holocaust.

VIENNA, Dec. 13.—On removing some of the debris from the ruins of the theatre to-day additional bodies were discovered in a good state of preservation. Information received up to 11 this morning shows that 50 persons reported missing still survive, but these 50 are counterbalanced by the omission of the names of persons who are really missing. Investigation into the cause of the disaster is being made by a tribunal for criminal offenses apart from that instituted by police authorities. It is intended to examine persons who have contributed to newspapers statements of their experience the night of the fire.

Arrested Again.

DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—Kelly, town counsellor of Tralie, was arrested yesterday after leaving a meeting in aid of the suspect maintenance fund at the rotunda, charged with intimidation. Kelly was previously imprisoned for holding a land league court at his house.

An Industrial Exhibition.

In consequence of opposition to a scheme for an industrial exhibition in Dublin, a strong movement is on foot to carry out the project at Belfast.

Disgusted Landlords.

It is understood that landlords will soon meet to express indignation at the working of the land act and demand compensation.

A Dark Outlook.

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—The reichstag has approved the bill for a new parliament house here. In consequence of some chambers of commerce issuing unfavorable reports regarding the new protective tariff, Bismarck has ordered the chambers to submit their annual reports to the government before publication. The newspaper controversy between Bismarck and Windhorst has put an end to a present parliamentary coalition between conservatives and clericals. The political situation is darker than ever.

French Affairs.

PARIS, Dec. 13.—The chambers of commerce of Paris, Lyons, St. Etienne, Rheims, Bordeaux, Macon, Calmat, Rochelle, Montpellier, Grenoble, Angouleme, Bayonne, Nancy, Havre and Marseilles pronounce in favor of negotiations for a Franco-American treaty of commerce.

The minister of marine has formed a project for prolonging breakwaters at Cherbourg so as to include the roadstead. The works will cost 40,900,000 francs.

A Mild Punishment.

ROME, Dec. 14.—Maccullose, who threw a revolver at Depretis, prime minister, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the Island of Ischia, with a small fine.

Cardinal Borromeo's Successor.

The pope has named Cardinal Howard to succeed the late Cardinal Edward Borromeo.

Paul Bert to the Prelates.

PARIS, Dec. 14.—Paul Bert, minister of public instruction and worship, has written all the prelates who attended the recent canonization ceremony in Rome reminding them of the provisions of the concordat requiring them to obtain permission of the government before leaving their dioceses.

Independent Italy.

TURIN, Dec. 14.—Italy has approved the conduct of the Italian council in protesting against French occupation of Tunis, and refused to withdraw the protest. Italian authorities continue to ignore the French protectorate and have sent a vessel of war to Susa.

TWO PICTURES.

Burdette, the Iowa wag and humorist, frankly confesses that he was unable to see anything to laugh at in the Guiteau case. On the contrary, all the incidents of the trial only bring to his mind the awful tragedy of last summer, with its suffering and despair, its hopes and prayers. He says:

We have suffered so much from the death of President Garfield that it is but natural the reaction from our measureless grief should set in. Oh, very natural indeed. We suffered in sympathy with the stricken martyr through all the long, hopeless summer of voiceless agony and patient endurance. The shattered bones, and the festering track of the fatal bullet; the cruel knives of the anxious, perplexed surgeons; the burrowing pus; the burning fever, the chills like the hand of death; the longing cry from the homesick heart for the old, home at Mentor; the weary nights of wakefulness; the long hot days; the pain that never slept, and the agony that never ceased; the long hungry look at the billowy sea, stretching away, wide and shoreless as eternity; the strong, good life, so full of hope, and love and strength for God and man, stricken down in the hour of its innocence and honor by the hand of the vilest assassin that ever cursed the earth by living in it; the peace that only came with death; the land pallid in the gloom of starless night from sea to sea; a sobbing world kneeling about an open coffin; nations beyond the seas calling out their sympathy to the stricken republic, and washing our tears away with their own—was ever sorrow like this? Was ever agony like his or grief like ours?

Burdette next describes the trial as it is conducted. He says:

And now—you will kindly excuse the hilarity of a Washington audience, but it seems so funny they cannot help it. It is the man who caused all this long day of agony and night of sorrow who is on trial; that is all. Over there, just a little way, the shot was fired; just here—may be you can see the stains on the floor yet, if you look closely—the president sank down, crying, "My God, what is this?" Over yonder, in the capitol, the dead body, worn and emaciated, and drawn with suffering, lay in state. Here—but we are missing something good; the court room is ringing with laughter over something the assassin said. Something funny; he is a very droll man. He says so many funny things. Ah, there is "great laughter" in the court room again. Out west, or down in Texas, a police magistrate would promptly check such laughter in his court during the trial of a man who stole a mule, but this is a Washington court room, and it is the trial of the wretch who killed the president. They do things differently in the District of Columbia courts, you see. And now the audience breaks into enthusiastic applause. They are cheering a good telling point made by the counsel for the assassin. It is a Washington crowd that is enjoying this trial—the trial that seems to be full of merriment and enthusiasm. We who live far away from the capital of our country can only glean the funny things of this amusing trial from the dispatches of the Associated Press, and no doubt lose a great deal of the rich humor of the court room.

Not Housing any of Them.

[New York Tribune.]

The promised "vigorous prosecution" of the star route thieves is likely to result in driving them all on a run past the yawning penitentiary doors. There seems a slim chance for housing any one of them.

FEEBLE LADIES.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain is permanently removed. Will you heed this? —Cincinnati Saturday Night.

"Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest." No hastily extemporized punch can approach the renowned HUB PUNCH in favor when mixed with hot or cold water, milk, lemonade, or whatever suits the taste. Every wine cellar should be supplied with it.

Sold by all Grocers, Wine Merchants and Druggists. Trade supplied by Richardson & Harrison, Agents for Pacific coast, San Francisco.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 13.

The local wheat market is unchanged. Shippers offer $1 57½ per cental.

The owners of the bark Belle of Oregon, most of whom live in Portland, have decided to load her on their own account, and have commissioned Messrs. Sibson, Church & Co. to furnish her cargo. This is the first vessel owned in Oregon which carries wheat owned by Oregonians to the European market.

The only change in home produce quotations since our last review is a decline in eggs, which are now weak at 35c per doz.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Wheat — Weak and easier; $1 26½ cash; $1 27½, January.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

U. S. MARSHAL'S CITATION.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, DISTRICT OF Oregon—ss.—Whereas, a libel of information hath been filed in the district court of the United States of America for the district of Oregon, on the 30th day of November, 1881, by Mr. Rufus Mallory, United States attorney, against the following described merchandise, viz: Eleven cases and 2 kegs of brandy, 3 cases of gin, 8 kegs of whisky, 1 case of claret and 1 keg of rum, which by Mr. John S. Oakford, deputy collector of customs at the port of Wrangel, in the collection district of Alaska, on the 31st day of October, 1881, were seized as forfeited to the United States, for the reasons and causes in said libel mentioned, and praying the usual process and monition of the said court in that behalf be made, and that all persons interested in the said merchandise may be cited to answer the premises, and, all due proceedings being had, that the said property above mentioned may, for the causes in said libel mentioned, be condemned as forfeited to the use of the United States, according to the form of the statute in such case made and provided; therefore, in pursuance of the said monition under the seal of the said court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give notice unto all persons claiming the said merchandise, or knowing or having anything to say why the same shall not be condemned and forfeited to the use of the United States, pursuant to the prayer of said libel of information, that they be and appear before the said district court, at the city of Portland, in said district, on Monday, the 2d day of January, 1882, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, if the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise at the next day of jurisdiction thereafter, then and there to interpose a claim for the same and to make their allegations in that behalf.

Dated at Portland, in said district, this 3d day of December, 1881.

EDWARDS. KEARNEY,
d3d15t U. S. Marshal for the Dist. of Oregon.

ROLLER SKATING

AND

BICYCLE SCHOOL

Will be opened at

Mechanics' Pavilion, Saturday, Nov. 19th.

WILL BE OPEN MORNINGS FROM 9 TO 12; afternoons 2 to 5, and evenings from 7:30 to 9:30. RATES—Ladies admitted free; use of skates, 25c; gentlemen, 25c admission (evenings); use of skates, 25c additional. Admission free to all during the day.

The skates and bicycles are of the best and most expensive patterns manufactured.

Suitable rules are enforced and good order kept; so the most fastidious may rely upon being suited.

Saturday evenings gentlemen will be charged 25c admission, 50c for use of skates. This additional charge is made in order to favor good skaters with a less crowded floor and a longer session.

There will be bicycle exercises; comic, fancy or fast skating every evening. n18 J. L. WALTON, Manager.
